

Lost Love

Text och Musik: MaxB och Girly

You say you love me, how could that ever be
You don't know the lies I hide behind
Never being true to me or you

We were together you and I
We shared everything, there was nothing to hide

You say that you want me, how did that thought get in your mind
I'll end up hurting you, watching you fall apart
Shattered to the ground

And don't say my no is just a protection
That the walls I have built just to keep you out
That you will tear them down
That I will come around, no...

You are my angel, you mean everything to me
Now that you're gone, how can I go on

Don't say my no is just a protection
That the walls I have built just to keep you out
That you will tear them down
That I will come around, no...

You are so far from me
I can't stop myself, but I don't wanna shed no tears

Don't say my no is just a protection
That the walls I have built just to keep you out
That you will tear them down
That I will come around, no...
I will leave you with a broken heart
A lost love
